Sub: Free Course on AI ML for youths, graduates and college students-Regd.
Sir/Madam,

As you are aware Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) are reshaping the world today, these technologies have vast applications in governance, healthcare, agriculture, education, and other sectors, improving efficiency and service delivery. However, to fully harness their potential, there is a growing need to develop skilled professionals who can understand, design, and implement AI and ML solutions responsibly. Building technical skills and digital literacy among students, professionals, government officials is essential to create an inclusive ecosystem that drives innovation, employment, and sustainable development in the era of emerging technologies.

In this regards, Department of IT and Communication, Govt. of Arunachal Pradesh is planning to provide AI-ML course for final year college/diploma students, graduates and youths of your district after due screening and training capacity. The workshop is planned to be held in collaboration with technical institutes of the state (RGU, NERIST, IIT Jote, Polytechnics), IIT Guwahati, IIT Delhi and industry experts. An online form (link below) has been created to assess course requirements and preferred course levels. The form can also be accessed by scanning the QR Code. You are kindly requested to circulate the link widely to ensure maximum participation.
